MINH DAO

PhD Student in Public Policy and Political Economy

CONTACT

469-468-1358

mtd220000@utdallas.edu
tuanminh112093@gmail.com

PROFILE

As a PhD student in an interdisciplinary area of public policy, I would like to seek a part-time position that offers an opportunity to apply academic training in data analysis and systems thinking in addressing a real-life public & private issue.

SKILLS

Data analytics
Research Design
R/Stata/SQL
Systems thinking
Cloud computing
Teamwork

EDUCATION

University of Texas at Dallas
2022-2027
PhD in PPPE

International University of Japan
2019-2021
MA in Public Management & Policy Analysis

LANGUAGES

English (professional)
Spanish (B1)
Japanese (intermediate)

EXPERIENCE

PhD Student in Public Policy and Political Economy
MS in Geographic Information System (Planned)
August 2022 – August 2027 (expected)
Data analytics with dataset of start-ups in US in collaboration with a faculty professor.
Ongoing experimental project on eliciting people's beliefs with a faculty professor.
Making dataset of protests in US for text analysis.
Passed Method Qualifying Exam.
Having published a peer-reviewed paper with quantitative modeling

Deputy Head of Administration Department at Bien Hoa National Institute of Forensic Psychiatry
March 2016 – August 2022
Overseeing daily operation of a hospital setting: public procurement, construction management and overall planning, especially the compliance of public procurement with the current legal framework.
Improving administrative efficiency with regards to inter-department communication

JICA scholar in Japan
September 2019 – June 2021
Exchange activities with Japanese development experience: modernization, administration reform, etc.